

Mrs. Beverly Jean Coulson

September 3, 1944 - September 2, 2018

Beverly Jean Coulson, age 73 of Sykesville MD, died September 2, 2018 at home under the care of her daughters with support from Carroll Hospice. Born September 3, 1944 in Fort Worth, TX, she was the daughter of James Earl Johnson and Reba Lavelle Johnson (née Watson) of Fort Worth, TX. She was the the wife of the late SMSGT Eugene Paul Coulson, Air Force (retired). They were married in Texas on June 2, 1961 and were happily married 53 years.

They had three daughters together: Kimberley Lynn Williams (Jimmy Williams) of Georgia, Susan Jean Browne (Stephen Browne) of Maryland, and Tracy Ann Christy (Jay Christy), of Maryland. As an Air Force wife, she lived for a time in England, Turkey, and Taiwan as well as Columbus OH, and San Antonio, TX with her husband and kids.

She was a devoted wife and mother, and a doting Grandmother to her Grandchildren: Scott Caraballo, Darian Williams, Sharon (Belt) Price, Timothy Belt, Nicholas Browne, Alex Christy, and Jayson Christy. She also leaves behind five Great Grandchildren: Cayden Price, Grayson Belt, Chase Price, Wyatt Williams and Eren Caraballo, brother James Lee Johnson, sisters Patricia McWhirter and Vernell "Duke" Freeman and dear friend Cleida Plumley.

As a teen she was in the marching band at Castleberry High School in Fort Worth and used to love to go dancing with her sisters. Beverly was active in several social leagues while living on different Air Force bases, including bowling and darts. She was crafty, making many blankets, dolls and other items for family and friends over the years. She was a strong bowler, a good cards partner and a hell of a friend. Her love for her family, especially her grandchildren, was known by everyone that knew her. Though she will be greatly missed by her family and friends, we take heart knowing she is reunited with her loving husband again.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband Gene, Grandson Ryan Caraballo, her sister Janie Louvelle Anderson, and son-in-law Jimmy Williams. A memorial service for Beverly will be held at 10:00am, Saturday September 8th, at Haight Funeral Home 6416 Sykesville Road, Eldersburg, MD 21784 followed by 2 hours for time with family to share memories. Internment will take place at Crestlawn Memorial Gardens, with a private ceremony.

“ My dear sweet Momma, Never could I ask for a better best friend, teacher, nurse, someone that is there for you no matter what but most of all, Mother. You gave me life. you loved me no matter how many times I would upset you. You are the one that taught me how to meet people and treat them with love and respect. You taught me how to be a good mother. I wish I could have been just half of the woman you are.

No matter how awful I was as a teenager, you loved me through it all. Susan, Tracy and I are 3 of the luckiest girls in the world! I know they agree.

I, already miss you so much! I have been very sad since you went to be with Daddy again and whenever I was sad I always called you and somehow, some way you always made me smile. So now being sad I keep going to pick up my phone to call and get that motherly advice and the laugh you always had me doing before the end of our call. I miss our long hour, two hour or three hour phone call.

I am so glad that I have a great memory because I have so many of you, Daddy and my sisters.

I love you Momma!

Thank you God, for blessing my sisters and I with such wonderful parents and grandparents to our children and our grandchildren.

Loving you always
Kimmilynn

“ A strong parent is an emotional anchor. Solid and reliable. Firm and constant. Stable and secure.

An anchor keeps a boat in place. Connected by a rope, the boat is allowed to drift only so far in any direction around its center. My mother was always that emotional center for me. As a child, a teenager, and a young adult she was my secure base. Because of this, she allowed me to always feel safe and secure.

The rope that connects a child is always present. It began as an umbilical cord. The physical connection is replaced by something invisible and intangible, yet nurturing. That connection, my psychological anchor grew and changed throughout my childhood and into adulthood and will continue even after her death.

No matter how many challenges I have faced, when I needed her the most, she was there. I never doubted her love, but at times, not on purpose, I took it for granted.

Life really is short. You never think the last time is the last time. You think there will be more. You think you have forever, but you don't.

Mom, once in a while I would wish I was more like Dad, but most of the time, I was grateful and proud to be so much like you.

Yesterday, we stopped by your place and I buried my face into your pillow and cried, the pillow where you laid and you took your last breath. I brought it home with me and held it all night. My mom truly was an amazing woman whom I will never stop living.

Holding tight and letting go.

Susie

“ She loved to play bingo with her friends. I would call her and ask if she won and often she'd say “4 times AND the jackpot!” And I'd say “soon they won't let you play anymore.” She loved to see her grandchildren. We would try to take her to breakfast each weekend. She was always happier when the boys came along. And they loved to see her. They would make sure she got safely to her lobby or help her lug groceries. She loved to see her great grandkids. There was nothing more magical for her than playing with the little ones. I loved to play scrabble with Mom, she loved word games. It was hard to beat her. She was so good. She always kept her home clean and tidy, she was so organized. Her apartment is so cozy, surrounded by things she picked out with Dad, it always felt like home. She had family photos literally all over her apartment, so she could be surrounded by family. Most of all, she loved our Father. She was never the same after he died. It was so hard to see her grieve for him for over five years. She had photos of him everywhere and made collages professing her love to him. We are relieved she's finally in his arms. You fought hard Mom, you stayed with us as long as you could. We miss you already, each of us picking up the phone to call you like we normally did. That will be a hard habit to break. I saved every voice mail you left me in the last 4 years. So I can hear your voice saying I love you when I need a lift. Oh Mom, I love you! I'll see you again. Rest In Peace. -Tracy
